

A photograph of an outdoor patio event space. In the foreground, a large orange velvet sofa is decorated with white and black pillows. In front of it is a round glass coffee table with a gold frame, holding a bouquet of red and white flowers, a candle, and glasses. To the left and right are matching orange armchairs and small gold side tables. In the background, another orange sofa and armchairs are visible, along with two tall black patio heaters. A stone fire pit with a decorative wall is in the center background. The patio is paved with grey stones and surrounded by a low wall and lush green trees. String lights hang across the top of the scene.
